SUMMARY

AI-first product manager with 10+ years building 0-1 technical products at startups and enterprises. Product Manager at a Fortune 50 telecom company (via Capgemini) on an omnichannel virtual assistant that handles 300K+ sessions a day at 78% containment, as it moves to Google ADK and generative AI. A hands-on builder: prototyped the assistant's first generative experience that reached production, and built a Gemini-powered transcript analysis tool now used by 1,000+ people internally.

EXPERIENCE

Product Manager

Capgemini, Philadelphia, PA — Jun 2024 - Present

Client: Fortune 50 Telecom | Capgemini title: Business Analyst.

Conversational AI Platform (chat, voice and messaging channels on Google ADK):

- Scale: own roadmap and delivery for the client's customer-service virtual assistant across app, web, messaging and voice (300K+ sessions a day, 78% containment) as it migrates from legacy systems to Dialogflow CX, Conversational Agents and Google ADK.
- Field-tech launch: launched a new field-technician channel in 4 months, coordinating 5 teams across 3 orgs. In pilot it serves 100+ technicians and handles 10,000+ chats a day.
- Generative AI: prototyped the Conversational Agents Playbook that became the assistant's first generative experience in production, saving millions a year by reducing escalations to human agents.
- Voice: led the Sales and affordable-plan enrollment modules in a multi-team move of legacy IVR to a unified Dialogflow-based voice and chat platform.
- RCS messaging: owned the legacy content authoring system used to create RCS messages and worked across teams to launch the client's RCS messaging channel.
- Roadmap and delivery: prioritize with support, conversation design, UX and engineering against CX metrics, and work with leadership on new areas such as Field Services and Inbound Sales.

Chat Transcript Analysis Tool (internal conversation insights platform built with Gemini):

- Scale: analyzes 200K+ conversations a day, producing 10+ LLM-generated metrics per conversation, including sentiment, summary, resolution, escalation reason, repeat contact, customer effort and human-agent performance.
- Adoption: grew from a prototype to 1,000+ internal users (about 100 daily) across product, design, operations and analytics, used to find what drives negative sentiment and escalations.
- AI-first ADLC: built hands-on as a PM with Claude, Google Antigravity and other AI coding tools across requirements, prompt design, code and testing, shipping features in days instead of sprints.
- Quality and team: validated LLM scores against human-reviewed transcripts. Co-built v1 with the product director and an engineer, who later hardened the production pipeline and relay code.

Business Analyst (Volunteer)
